Setting up of Water Management Body

3041. SHRIMATI BIMBA RAIKAR: Will the Minister of WATER RESOURCES be pleased to state:

(a) whether the recent report of the World Bank predicting a bleak future for Indian water economy has prompted Government to consider setting up of a Water Management Body; and

(b) whether Government are culling out model clauses from Maharashtra Water Resources Regulatory Act as well as drawing inputs from the recently constituted water management systems in Karnataka and Haryana?

THE MINISTER OF STATE OF THE MINISTRY OF WATER RESOURCES (SHRI SONTOSH MOHAN DEV): (a) Mr. John Briscoe of the World Bank has recently prepared a draft Report titled "India's Water Economy: Bracing for a Turbulent Future". The report is based on study conducted by the World Bank on its own. The Report in general discusses various aspects of water resources development and management in India and broadly covers the issues related to:

i. adjusting to the needs of a changing India;

ii. adjusting to scarcity and greater variability;

iii. dealing growing conflicts;

iv. maintaining and renewing existing infrastructure;

v. building infrastructure in under-served areas and for under-served public purposes;

vi. making the transition from development to management and development;

vii. revitalizing the machinery of government to deal with the turbulent water future; and viii. charting a prioritized, sequenced, pragmatic path for making improvements.

Most of the issues are duly addressed in the National Water Policy and appropriate actions are taken in light of the present policies of the Union and the State Governments. There is no proposal regarding setting up of a separate water management body.

(b) Does not arise.
